This is good DLC Thanks. As a wine enthusiast I was really thrilled to explore this game. Played the Demo for hours and decided to buy the game eventually but returned it before I passed the 2hrs mark.

Main issue for me is the very basic game engine. You can't handle the different grape varieties really independent from each other over most parts of the manufacturing process. If one step for one variety takes 2 month whereas the other variety only need 2 weeks you have to wait the whole 2 month before you can continue with both of them. That is somewhat ridiculous especially if you have to harvest all varieties at the same time. Eventhough it's just a simplified video game of course that is just a tad to unrealistic. Same applies for the fact that you can't plant more than 3 different grape varieties.

There was a German game back in the early 90s called Winzer and that was in parts already more complex than this one as you had manage the acquisition of workers, barrels, bottles and harvest machines for example yourself from the beginning. You could also export your wine to several countries or produce sparkling wine and champagne. Another suggestions would be the introduction of wine faires or the production of cuvées.

With these points in mind I think the game has much more potential. The developers have been very enthusiastic in the beginning. Hope they put more efforts in this game as the output might become considerable more satisfying. That's said the game concept itself is really good.

Will happily change this review to a recommendation if we see some further good development.. 1 от меня.. The whole game is visible in the preview video: it's a challenge between you, time, and squares- those damn squares, how much I hate them! Very addictive.

SPOILER: at sometime in the end, you'll lose.. I really was not expecting to like this one but actually I did it. It has plenty of replayability, if you like the game where you can make choices and modify the story, this is a good purchase.. Horeeeeeeee. Thanks SCS Software

No updates that seem to fix anything but ones that break a lot.

No real communication from the devs of update cycle.

No reason to pay for this.. Updated Review:

I am impressed by this game for a number of reasons.

I originally had a complaint about mouse and keyboard controls on release. The developer listened to this complaint, and in the most recent patch and beta, this has been fixed. I've been playing it with improved mouse controls and it's completely playable and fun!

I'm also impressed by the scope of the game and creativity of the levels. It's quirky and much, much larger than I had originally expected. It's a great cartoon-y billiards-esque game with quirky characters and unconventional game play. I like it a lot, and can recommend it.

Original Review:

Until the controls are patched to be useable, I cannot recommend this game.

Aiming and power are totally random chance right now. No mouse support in menus. Ugh.. Honestly just get this if you're going all-in on the Stellaris DLC's. The main things you'll want are the Spider people and the amazing soundtrack.. of best game ever. Doesnt work, constantly crashes!
